WELCOME

*Mission is ForMission's beating heart.
The core of our motivation is to build up the church
so that the Kingdom is extended.*

INTRODUCTION

As Principal of ForMission College, I am pleased to welcome you to our latest prospectus. I hope that as you read it, you will see why ForMission is known as an innovative and diverse community, committed to equipping and encouraging God's missional people in today's troubled world.

ForMission College has a vision for enabling Christians to transform the world through missional presence and action. Our students – young and old – represent many different ethnicities, nationalities and churches. Such diversity is essential if we are to reach an increasingly diverse society but is also important as we reflect and celebrate the diversity of the global church.

Our highly regarded BA and MA programmes are designed and taught by Christians with years of experience of mission, leadership and church planting. The programmes cover the very latest missional theology but also include practical application, and spiritual and character formation.

It is a great joy to see ForMission students not only fulfilling their academic potential but also developing gifts and skills that will bear fruit in their ministries. All around the world, our former students are working in towns, cities and villages as mission workers and leaders, finding new and exciting ways of participating in the mission of God.

It would be a privilege for us to equip you on your own journey of lifelong missional service and witness – so please do prayerfully reflect on whether God is inviting you to join the ForMission family.

CHRIS DUCKER
Principal

OUR VISION

ForMission's vision is to encourage and equip Christians to transform the world through missional presence and action. The College is a learning community of reflective practice, community engagement, leading-edge missional theology and participation in God's mission.

ABOUT FORMISSION

WHO WE ARE

ForMission prides itself on being an interdenominational college that attracts and equips followers of Jesus from a wide range of churches, including Evangelical, Pentecostal, Baptist and Charismatic churches – as well as those who belong to missional communities or see themselves as ‘post-denominational.’

ForMission welcomes people of all ages, backgrounds and ethnicities, and celebrates the diversity of its learning community of students and staff. Our student body is among the most diverse of any theological college in the UK today.

OUR VALUES

ForMission’s core values are being relational and missional; committed to diversity, excellence and service.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

We draw together innovative and inspiring missional leaders through networking events, seminars and other gatherings, and publish a journal designed to support missional Christians in their lives and ministries.

We believe an understanding of missio Dei (the mission of God) is an essential starting point for God’s missional people, and that ForMission is well-equipped to support churches and church leaders in developing their missional thinking.

SUPPORTING MISSION

As well as supporting leaders and churches to be missional in their local community, we have developed partnerships that help us to deliver highly practical work-based learning throughout our programmes. We seek to develop an ongoing relationship with our students beyond graduation to encourage and equip them in their mission contexts in the UK or overseas.

FACULTY

Our teaching faculty have extensive experience in areas such as church planting, church leadership, youth ministry and serving in mission. They are qualified in theology, missiology or a related subject. Full profiles can be found on our website.

ACCREDITATION

Our BA and MA programmes are validated by Newman University. We also have a franchise arrangement in place with Newman University for students accessing student loan funding.

BA PROGRAMME

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMMES:

1. BA (Hons) in Theology, Mission and Ministry with specialism in Missional Leadership.
2. BA (Hons) in Theology, Mission and Ministry with specialism in Youth Work.
3. BA (Hons) in Theology, Mission and Ministry with Foundation Year.
4. BA (Hons) Top-up in Theology, Mission and Ministry.

STUDY WITH FORMISSION

We welcome students who are passionate to develop their skills in missional leadership and ready to bring about change in this world with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Our undergraduate programmes aim to equip students to be missionally effective in their church or ministry context through accredited training, thought leadership and missional support. Our undergraduate programmes focus on missional and biblical theology, with practical application to prepare you for employment after graduating.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

The programme combines theological and biblical study with a mission emphasis and practical work experience throughout.

You will gain an understanding of missional theology and explore the foundations of Christian belief, practice and missional ministry within your chosen church, organisation or training context.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The programme is divided into three elements: class time, practical work-based learning, and independent study. The programme is structured around taught modules through our facilitated learning.

This is supported by tutorials, cluster groups and personal formation throughout the programme. This method of study will give you invaluable experience to equip you for employment after you graduate.

PROGRAMME CONTENT

You will study the core areas of Biblical Studies (Old and New Testament), Theology, Mission and Ministry, as well as other subjects, such as Missional Leadership or Youth Ministry, depending on your chosen optional modules.

You will study at your chosen campus and engage in a range of work-based learning in your local context, designed to develop your skills in mission and ministry.

As well as the traditional essay there is a range of assessment on the programme, including presentations, sermons, research projects, and practical work-based tasks.

PROGRAMME RESOURCES

You will receive detailed study guides for every module, lecture, and workshop. All resources will be made available to you online through our Virtual Learning Environment, Moodle.

- Learning Resources: You will have access to detailed study guides and to the College's online library and lending resources via Moodle (Virtual Learning Environment). You will use these to prepare for participation in classes, tutorials, and to help you include assignments, such as essays or reports, and sometimes class presentations or debates.

- Work-based Learning: You will gain work experience in an organisational and/or ministry context, to enable you to develop practical skills and experience of Christian leadership.
- Regular Tutorials and Supervision: You will meet regularly with your Campus Leader and with your Work-based Supervisor. Work-based assessment, including a portfolio, is an important element of the programme.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

All of our programmes are built on five areas of formation:

1. Personal Formation: developing the interpersonal communication skills which make it possible for people to respond well to your leadership style.
2. Intellectual Formation: learning cutting edge theories which can be tested in your work-based learning context.
3. Ministry Formation: developing the character of Christ the disciple-maker – becoming like Christ the missional leader par excellence.
4. Missional Formation: learning the key ideas and skills needed to equip the church for God's mission through missional leadership.
5. Spiritual Formation: helping students to develop spiritual practices that enable them to have a deeper relationship with God and discern God's mission.

MA PROGRAMMES

PROGRAMME AIMS

These programmes aim to equip those in leadership in Christian churches, organisations and communities with the ability to engage in and develop contextually-focused appropriate approaches to missional leadership and practice in postmodern societies.

The MA programme has four distinct specialist pathways*:

1. MA Missional Leadership
2. MA Missional Leadership and Spirituality
3. MA Missional Leadership and European Studies
4. Missional Leadership and Social Entrepreneurship

pathways are offered subject to sufficient numbers of students*

HOW THE PROGRAMMES WORK

We aim to advance students' knowledge and critical understanding of contemporary issues in mission, drawing on missiology, sociology, psychology, leadership studies, theology and biblical studies.

The taught module assessments and the dissertation module offer students opportunities to develop their particular interests in these fields, and the skills of independent study and research in a discipline of their choice.

WHO ARE THE PROGRAMMES AIMED AT?

The programmes are aimed at a wide range of students who are in some form of Christian ministry within churches, mission agencies or community organisations/projects.

STUDY OPTIONS

The Programmes are studied part-time and either fully online, or mainly online with some face to face classes.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The programmes are completed in three years. The first two years comprise six taught modules: three core modules, two specialist modules and one further optional module. The dissertation module is completed in the third year on a subject of the student's own choice (within a field relevant to the named award). Entry points for 2022-23 are September 2022, January 2023 and Summer 2023.

WHAT DOES A TYPICAL YEAR LOOK LIKE?

Teaching takes place either online, or in Birmingham (all programmes except European Studies) or in Amsterdam (European Studies Programme). Individual modules are facilitated in different ways with a mixture of stand-alone study days, or as intensives of two or more study days including overnight stays (European Studies Programme only). There may be a need for tuition times or delivery modes to be changed, due to situations outside our control, such as sickness, or government guidelines.

MARCUS MOSEY, MA GRADUATE

“The facilitators are inspirational as they are also living missionally and looking at creative ways of doing ministry. The programme has given me a type of optimistic thinking, where I look at a ministry and see all the potential to develop that into a place where people can know God and can go out and catch the vision to share the gospel with others and develop community.”

“It is an eye opener being exposed to new strategies and different formulas of doing missional work from what I have been accustomed in the ministry.”

MICHAEL MURADZIKWA, BA GRADUATE

A man with glasses and a goatee, wearing a white plaid shirt and dark trousers, stands in a classroom with wood-paneled walls. He has his arms outstretched as if speaking or presenting. Behind him is a framed poster for 'Western Lakes' with the tagline 'RELEASING FUTURES'. In the foreground, the back of a student's head and shoulder is visible, and a desk with a red chair and some books is partially seen.

“There’s a clear link between the activity in my placement and the theology in the classroom. The programme has given me more confidence to pioneer missional strategies.”
